HOW APPENDICITIS CAN BE PREVENTED.

This is important for Honolulu people, especially those who have bowel trouble. ONE SPOONFUL buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika, taken ONLY TWICE a week keeps entire system CLEAN and prevents appendicitis. Most medicines act only on lower bowel; Adler-ika acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel. TEN MINUTES after taking, effect begins—the INSTANT action is surprising.

Just ONE SPOONFUL is so powerful and cleanses bowels so THOROUGH it relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour or gassy stomach. ONE bottle has relieved mild cases appendicitis. In acute cases get your doctor's permission to try Adler-ika. The Hollister Drug Co.

Part of Riley's Cash For Chap He Did Not Rob

Male Chinese Dressmaker Gets Coin Supposed to Belong to Prisoner

James Riley was acquitted by a jury in Circuit Judge Ashford's court yesterday of a charge of second degree burglary. It was alleged that last June he entered the room of a Chinese man who is a dressmaker in Nuuanu street and stole $10 in silver and a nickel watch.

This morning Circuit Judge Ashford issued certain orders regarding the disposition of $14.30 which was in the possession of the court clerk. It being alleged that the money was found on Riley at the time of his arrest. The prosecution claimed that $6 of this amount belonged to Riley, he having received it on a previous pay-day.

Riley laid claim to only $6 of the money today. He made no claim to the remaining $8.30. The court therefore ruled that the Chinese dressmaker recover the $8.30.

What became of the $1.70 balance from the $10 alleged to have been stolen from the Chinese is still a matter of conjecture, according to the prosecution.

APPOINTMENTS IN HAWAII GIVE CAPITAL SHOCK

Washington Politicians Had Assumed Democrats Would Get Places on Bench

By C. S. ALBERT. (Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) WASHINGTON, D. C., August 24.—The "referendum" conducted by Attorney-General Gregory for the purpose of ascertaining the men in Hawaii most available for appointment to the bench, resulted in a notable surprise for Democratic politicians. It developed that the best-equipped men were Republicans. Many of the Democrats mentioned did not seem to meet the requirements.

As a consequence of this investigation of fitness by mail, following consultations with Senator Overman, acting head of the senate judiciary committee, and others of the congressional party that visited Hawaii, two Republicans were retained.

The reappointment of Alexander G. M. Robertson as chief justice created general surprise here. The impression had prevailed that all vacancies would be filled by Democrats. The astonishment was heightened by the reappointment of William L. Whitney to the circuit bench. Both are Republicans, but the attorney-general was informed on all sides that they were capable and fit for the positions to which they were subsequently named.

In order to hasten the reappointment of Judges Robertson and Whitney, coupled with the inability to select equally good Democrats for the other vacant places, the original intention of the attorney-general to announce a complete slate at one time was changed. It was found impossible to choose four men and lay their names before the president without additional delay and inquiry.

According to the books in the department of justice two vacancies remain unfilled on the Hawaiian bench. These were caused by the expiration of terms. The positions vacant are those held by Judge John A. Mathews, man of the third circuit, and Judge Charles F. Parsons of the fourth circuit. It is the intention of Mr. Gregory to name men for these places at the earliest possible moment. No intimation has been given of the selections.

Judges Robertson and Whitney were given recess commissions by the president. These will remain in effect, unless they are confirmed or rejected by the senate until the adjournment of Congress next year. Their names will be sent to the senate as recess appointments immediately after that body convenes in December.

It is expected that the additional judges will be ready for recess commissions, thus enabling the president to send in the four names at one time.

PRICE MADE TWELVE TIMES CORRECT SUM BY AN ERROR IN AD

In Benson, Smith &amp; Company's half-page ad which appeared in last evening's Star-Bulletin was contained an error as to the price of nipples.

The advertisement read, "Nipples, black or white, 2 for 55c." This should have read that two dozen could be bought for 55c.

Several army officers and their families who could not be taken to the mainland on the U. S. army transport Sherman which left here five days ago, sailed on the U. S. supply ship Supply, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The list of passengers included the following: Capt. George M. Apple, 1st Field Artillery; Mrs. Apple; 2d Lieut. M. C. Mitchell, 1st Infantry; Mrs. Mitchell and child; 1st Lieut. Joseph L. Topham, Jr., 1st Infantry; Mrs. Topham and two children; 2d Lieut. Jesse A. Ladd, 1st Infantry, and Mrs. Ladd. Household goods belonging to the officers were also taken over on the Supply, as there was not sufficient room on the Sherman.

HAS EYE OPERATED ON JUST SO HE CAN ENTER ANNAPOLIS

In order to be able to pass the medical examination necessary before he is accepted as a cadet at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Harry Melim of Honolulu, who received his appointment last week from Delegate Kalamianole, this afternoon underwent an operation on one of his eyes.

Melim, better known locally as "Shorty," is well known as a football star in Honolulu. A slight defect to one of his eyes would have barred him from the naval academy, so this afternoon he had Dr. J. J. Carey perform a minor operation. "Shorty" took no chloroform, and the operation has been pronounced successful. Young Melim will be seen on the local gridiron this fall wearing the black and gold for McKinley High. He goes to Annapolis next year.

GUARD TO ENTER FOOTBALL TEAM IN ARMY LEAGUE

Jumping into the game with both feet, the 1st Infantry, National Guard of Hawaii, plans to take an active part in football this year, and will enter a team in the army football league this year. National Guard headquarters announced today.

Lieut. P. M. Smoot, the regimental athletic officer, has called on company commanders for football material, and practice is expected to begin in a few weeks. William Rosa, the well-known Honolulu football star, will captain the regiment's team during this season.

Rumor that a business men's military training camp along the lines of the one held last month in Plattburg, N. Y., may shortly be established in Honolulu, is not taken seriously by army men here. The best reason why such a camp would not be practical, they say, is that it would duplicate the national guard's work here. Also no funds are available.

Those who have already signified their willingness to join, and others who would like to receive a personal invitation to become members, are asked to attend the meeting of the new engineering company, National Guard of Hawaii, to be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the armory.

Capt. C. R. Forbes, who is the moving spirit of the new company, will give a snappy address of welcome, and will introduce Col. Samuel I. Johnson, the adjutant-general, who will speak on the work of the National Guard of Hawaii and its plans for the fall and winter activities.

WHALE TRIES TO RAM SONOMA; HAS AWFUL HEADACHE

There is a big whale swimming around today in the South Seas somewhere between here and Sydney suffering from a severe headache, according to Purser H. Holtz of the Oceanic liner Sonoma, which arrived here today.

This affliction resulted because the whale got in the way of the steamer about 2 o'clock the seventh morning out of Sydney. He was bumped quite solidly by the liner, which was doing 16 knots at the time.

The impact aroused several of the ship's officers who were asleep at the time. A hurried investigation was made and it was found that no damage had been sustained by the ship as a result of the "collision." The whale immediately went away from there, and the Sonoma kept on going also.

To secure more data if possible as to the cause or causes of the explosion of Standard Oil Company's tank in the yards at Twilley two weeks ago, Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, will call a conference tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The meeting is held in view of the fact that two officials of the oil company are in the city now from San Francisco, carrying on investigations for the company as to the cause of the disaster. The two officials are Mr. T. Harper, sales manager in San Francisco, and J. C. Black, an engineer.

Mr. Harper and Mr. Black, together with A. S. Prescott, local sales manager, will be asked to attend the meeting, and to add what information they can to that already collected by the pertinent Forbes.

Governor Pinkham and Superintendent Forbes have not yet conferred on the report handed in to the governor by Mr. Forbes a week ago, relative to the cause of the explosion. As announced in the Star-Bulletin at that time, the governor did not feel the report should be made public, (if some minor changes had been in it. Since the return of Mr. Forbes from Hawaii the first of the week both he and the governor have been too busy to go over the report together.
